TOKYO BROADCASTS NEW VERSION OF RAIDS

Allied Airmen Destroy Forty Enemy Planes at Rabaul

United Nations Are Officially Silent On Bombing Details

By the Associated Press
Japan broadcast a new version today of bombing raids Saturday in Tokyo and three other great cities, implying that the assault was launched from three United States aircraft carriers in the Pacific and that some of the planes raced on to safety in China after loosing their bombs.

The world still was dependent on Japanese accounts or other Axis versions originating in Japan for news of what occurred Saturday, when the Japanese declared that planes bearing the insignia of the United States air force bombed Tokyo, the capital; Yokohama and Kobe, the two chief ports, and Nagoya, Japan's third city and center of aircraft production.

There was no word of such a raid from Washington or any other United Nations capital and if the raids were launched from a task force such as the Tokyo announcement described, it may be ten days or longer before the American version is published. Washington's policy is to permit all units to return to their bases before publishing results.

A Reuters dispatch from Chungking said the United States planes which struck home at Japan had arrived safely at their destination. Chungking had reported earlier that the attack was not launched from Chinese soil.

The new announcement from imperial headquarters made no reference to claims previously broadcast by the Tokyo radio that nine attacking planes were shot down.

Vital Position In Burma Area Is Recaptured

British Tanks and Chinese Infantry Combine In Great Assault

FLYING TIGERS BUSY

London, April 20.—(P)—British tanks and Chinese infantry have joined in a combined counter-offensive and recaptured Yenangyang in the Burma oil fields from the Japanese, Chinese and British informants said today.

An RAF communiqué from New Delhi announced an RAF sweep of 200 miles along the Arakan (West Burma) coast in which the airfield at Bassein on the Irrawaddy delta was smashed up, motor launches attacked, barges damaged at Gwa Bay, on the coast 50 miles north of Bassein, a schooner attacked at Sandaway, 75 miles north of Gwa, and another schooner machine gunned at Andrew Bay.

The British also reported raiding the Japanese-used airdrome at Alammyo, along the Irrawaddy north of Prome, and credited the Flying Tigers of the American volunteer group with destroying two Japanese planes over another airfield. The AVG had no losses, the communiqué said.

Paced by tanks, the Chinese infantry was said to have made a headlong attack on the Japanese along the Irrawaddy, signifying the start of a limited counter-offensive to end the most serious threat of the Japanese drive.

A Chungking communiqué said the Chinese had recaptured Yenangyang after a fierce two-day battle and relieved an encircled British force of several thousand men.

May Ship Oil By Waterways

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Revival of an old and storied form of commerce, river steamboating, appears likely today in the unprecedented mobilization of transportation facilities to supply the industrial east with oil.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes declared that every available carrier would be pressed into service to haul petroleum northward on the Mississippi and eastward along the Ohio river.

The petroleum coordination office and the transportation and petroleum industries are rounding out a program for complete coordination of rail, pipeline and barge facilities, to funnel oil eastward.

A survey was ordered to determine how much equipment may be moved from other waterways to the Mississippi and Ohio.

From Pittsburgh the oil fans out by rail tank car and transport trucks to eastern consuming areas. Approximately 100 additional steel barges are being built and barge companies are studying the feasibility of constructing inexpensive wooden barges.

Candidates of Both Parties Irked By Anti-Lewis Speech

Address Delivered in Rochester Enlivens State Campaign

CONFERENCES HELD

Harrisburg, April 20.—(P)—Pennsylvania's primary campaign was enlivened today by differences between Republicans and Democrats over the implications of a speech by Major General Edward Martin.

Judge Ralph H. Smith, a Democratic candidate for the nomination for governor, raised the issue without actually naming General Martin, a Republican candidate.

"One candidate for the same office I seek, although not of my party," he asserted, "has been roundly flaying labor." The Democrat said "inflammatory campaign speeches will not strengthen American unity," and added:

"We are all Americans. Let's act like Americans." State Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Martin's campaign manager, said the jurist's remarks were aimed at a speech made by Martin in Rochester last week.

Tactics Used By Japs Fail At Canal Zone

U. S. Army Headquarters, Panama Canal Zone, April 20.—(P)—The largest field maneuvers conducted in Panama since the start of the war have just ended with the theoretical repulse of an invasion (Turn to Page Nine)

WAR BULLETINS

Bern, Switzerland, April 20.—(P)—Thirty French hostages were reported executed today by German firing squads near Rouen, advices reaching here from occupied France said.

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Congressional leaders announced today President Roosevelt would send a message to congress in a week or ten days setting forth his views on necessary anti-inflation measures.

Vichy, April 20.—(P)—Collaborationist Pierre Laval, new chief of the Vichy government, called the first formal meeting of his ministers today to take up the mandate handed them by Marshal Petain amid a crisis which Petain compared with that of France's defeat in June, 1940.

Willemstad, Curacao, April 20.—(P)—An enemy submarine prowling within 750 miles of the Panama Canal fired a number of shells at important oil installations at Bullen Bay on this island before dawn Sunday but an official announcement said all the projectiles missed.

Chungking, April 20.—(P)—Chinese troops which swooped down from the northeast have recaptured Yenangyang, in the heart of the West Burma oil fields, after two days of bitter fighting, and have released a British force of several thousand men from encirclement by the Japanese, a Chinese communiqué said today.

AIR ACTIVITY INCREASES ON SOVIET FRONT

Hitler Believed Preparing For Large Scale Land Operations Against The Reds

FINN LINES ARE BROKEN

BULLETIN
London, April 20.—(P)—Soviet long-range artillery was reported today to be drawn up within range of Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow. Furious new Russian attacks were reported launched along the Volkhov river front south of Leningrad and against the Finns on the Svir river, between Lakes Ladoga and Onega.

Kuibyshev, April 20.—(P)—Increasing German air activity was reported today from many sectors of the front amid indications of an improvement in the weather conditions upon which the launching of large scale land operations are dependent.

Russian dispatches said the Nazis were blasting away at railway stations, airdromes and front line positions with their bombers—sometimes hurling 50 planes against a single objective in the biggest air attacks of the year.

On the southern front the Germans were reported to have launched several tank attacks with air support in an unsuccessful attempt to restore positions pierced by the Russians.

Most indicative of milder weather were advices from the northern front which told of severe fighting above Leningrad, where Soviet troops were said to have driven a wide breach in the Finnish lines on the Karelian Isthmus after traversing a vast minefield.

The Finns themselves declared they had smashed the Russian attack and inflicted heavy casualties on the Red army.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts), April 20.—(P)—The German high command said today Russian attacks had collapsed after hard fighting on the central and northern sectors. The communiqué indicated the Nazi air force was taking an increasing part in the campaign.

MEDIUM BOMBER IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Mitchell Field, N. Y., April 20.—(P)—Fire today destroyed a medium bomber being warmed up for a "routine operation" but none of its crew was injured.

Lieut. Larry Kelliher, Mitchell Field public relations officer, said the plane's right motor burst into flames at 5:29 a. m. (EWT) and spread over the entire ship, causing two "moderate" explosions.

"There was no evidence of sabotage," Lieut. Kelliher said, "nothing to indicate it was other than a natural accident."

Priorities On Labor Plan Of Commissioner

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the War Manpower Commission said today he would create a system of labor priorities, designed to get needed men into the most important war industries, but declared he did not contemplate a work or fight method of forcing men into war production.

Charged with responsibility for allocating man power and women power among factories, farms and the armed forces, McNutt estimated 13,000,000 new recruits would be needed in war plants this year, and said that "we may be confronted with an overall nationwide labor shortage" in the likely event of a long war.

McNutt told a press conference he favored a program of "group" deferments from selective service, although he acknowledged that such a program might conflict with present selective service procedure, and would require legislation to effect.

Such group deferments, excusing men of certain skill qualifications from military duty, would be upon not only an occupational group basis but also upon a regional basis, McNutt said, in order to take care of local shortages of trained labor.

New England Claims Quintuplets Record

Whitman, Mass., April 20.—(P)—Kay Cunadell gave birth to quintuplets today and a short time later her five offsprings were galloping all over the place... no kidding? John Kay and his sister Marie Kay, who are goat experts and own Kay Cunadell, said that so far as they knew this was the first time in American history that five kids were born at one time to one nanny goat.

War Policies To Be Decided By GOP Chief

Stage is Set For Showdown On Party's Stand as Committee Gathers

TWO PLANS DEBATED

Chicago, April 20.—(P)—Chairman Joseph W. Martin of the Republican national committee said today that the GOP party's pledge to the president of full support and cooperation in the war effort would be kept "regardless of the provocations that may arise," but added "there never was a greater need for the Republican party than in this critical hour."

In an address prepared for delivery at the opening session of the committee, Martin declared that "the safety and security of our country must come first," and that "we are Americans above Republicans."

Chicago, April 20.—(P)—The stage was set today for a showdown on the Republican party's stand on war as members of the national committee convened to map the GOP fall campaign.

Party leaders disclosed they were ready to present resolutions relating to the war stand and there was a strong possibility of a protracted discussion before final committee approval.

Wendell Wilkie, the GOP 1940 presidential candidate, had prepared for the committee a resolution repudiating "the doctrines of isolationism" and urging that the party undertake "just and reasonable international responsibilities." Also ready for the committee's consideration were resolutions by Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio and C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois. (Turn to Page Nine)

PHILADELPHIA HAS WATERFRONT ROUNDUP

Philadelphia, April 20.—(P)—Approximately 50 persons were rounded up along the waterfront over the weekend as the FBI coastguard and police tightened a guard on Philadelphia's important shipping points.

Most of those taken into custody were derelicts who unknowingly had wandered onto piers or in railroad yards, but several were held for questioning by federal agents.

LAD BROUGHT FROM HAWAII AUTO VICTIM

Seattle, April 20.—(P)—Seven-year-old Ronald Homer Canady went through the December 7 air raid in Hawaii without a scratch. But Mrs. Gordon Canady decided not to take any chances and brought her boy to Seattle for a safe home while his father was on duty with the navy. An automobile killed Ronald yesterday.

Unit Account Division of the Chest Campaign Starts Work

The next week will be a busy one for the unit account divisions of the current Community Chest campaign, according to Harry D. Kopf, chairman. Although the active general solicitation period of the 1942 appeal for the combined budgets of the Chest's seven members does not get underway officially until next Monday, April 27, the concerns assigned to Division A, Division B, National Firm and Chain Store committees, as well as the Public Employees group, are slated to begin their company solicitations immediately, Mr. Kopf announced.

There are approximately two hundred forty firms in Warren and its immediate vicinity which are being asked to conduct individual campaigns among their respective

Initial Step Taken By MacArthur For Offensive Action

NEW ATTACK LAUNCHED ON CORREGIDOR

For First Time Since Fall of Bataan Dive Bombers Are Used By Enemy On Island

ONE IS SHOT DOWN

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Opening of an intense Japanese effort to batter the Philippine island fortress of Corregidor into helplessness by bombs and siege guns was reported today by the war department.

From new positions on the Bataan peninsula and from the south shore of Manila Bay the foe began an intense artillery bombardment yesterday, and for the first time since the fall of Bataan dive bombing raids were made on Corregidor.

Defending gunners replied effectively to the new attack, silencing at least three batteries, a communiqué reported, and breaking up three motor truck and troop concentrations on Bataan.

Five dive bombing raids were made on Corregidor and in addition Japanese light bombers attacked Corregidor and Fort Hughes several times from high altitudes.

One bomber was hit by anti-aircraft fire, the war department reported.

Many miles near Zamboanga, on the island of Mindanao more than 500 miles to the south, an American-Filipino patrol ambushed two bus loads of Japanese troops and inflicted numerous casualties.

Yesterday the department reported (Turn to Page Nine)

Biddle Seeks To Enjoin Big Corporations

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Attorney General Biddle announced today that the justice department had filed suit in federal district court at Wilmington, Del., and Pittsburgh, Pa., seeking to enjoin the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation and the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation from violating priorities fixed by the War Production Board.

The suit, involving more than one-third of the total steel production of the nation, was the first to be instituted under the War Production Board's priorities program.

Injunctions were sought to enjoin the two companies from "accepting, holding, using, producing, manufacturing, distributing, delivering or dealing with or in" iron, steel, or iron and steel alloy products, or filling, accepting or delivering orders for these products "otherwise than in accordance with" WPB orders.

The suits further would command the two companies to comply with all WPB regulations and orders.

School Strike Is Terminated

Pittsburgh, April 20.—(P)—School students in suburban Brentwood, who struck for three days in protest against discharge of the supervising principal of Brentwood high school, returned to classes today following the school board's decision to re-instate the dismissed executive.

The dispute ended after Charles B. Pierce, principal of the Moore elementary school, declined to accept the school board's appointment as successor to the high school principal, Orlando H. English, who is ill in an Elmira, N. Y., hospital.

Subsequently, the school board announced that English would be offered a four-year contract and two members of the board, who quit because other members voted English's dismissal, would return to their posts.

More than 1,000 students in the high school and two elementary schools participated in the strike. (Turn to Page Nine)

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Every Friday night a bunch of us fellows get together over at Bill Webster's place. We wouldn't miss those weekly get-togethers for anything.

There are seven in the group—Bill Webster, Judge Cunningham, Pete Swanson, Old Doc McGinnis, the dentist, and young Doc Mitchell the M. D., the government man Bob Newcomb, and myself.

We don't play cards. We don't sing or carry on.

We just sit quietly and talk—and drink a glass or two of beer.

I guess we discuss just about everything under the sun—politics, business, family affairs, music, farming, hunting, fishing, and what not.

But mostly we like to chew the fat about life's experiences and a man's philosophy in these times.

To sort of help out the conversation, we've found mellow beer particularly relaxing. Every one of us likes the tangy taste of beer... and now and then Judge Cunningham insists on ale for everybody.

You mightn't think that just settin' and talkin' would be so much fun. But it is. Particularly when a man begins to get around to the age of reason. Like us.

And it's wonderful how a few glasses of good beer help bring out good talk and good sense when men get together. There's something peaceful and friendly and human about beer that brings out the best in a man.

They call beer the "beverage of moderation." That "moderation" idea is good philosophy—maybe that's why good beer and good fellowship go together so well.

Seems to me there ought to be more of this quiet talk over a glass of beer. It sure straightens out a man in his thinking.

Anyhow, men ought to get together and be friends. That's the way we were made. Why not try it more often—all of you?

Youngsville Man Is Held After Crash

Arrested on two charges, driving while intoxicated and failure to stop at the scene of an accident, Charles Beardsley, Matthews Road, pleaded not guilty to both charges this morning and in default of $1,500 bond, was remanded to custody of the sheriff to await the next term of court.

Beardsley is alleged to have struck a Pennsylvania Motor Police car about 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening in Youngsville, and continued en route to his residence. Private L. G. Fobes, operator of the police vehicle, gave chase and apprehended Beardsley as he arrived at Matthews run.

Fobes arrested the Matthews run man and had him examined by a physician who pronounced Beardsley to be intoxicated. Brought to Warren by Fobes, he was put in the county jail until today's arraignment before Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans, and was returned to the jail later today awaiting court trial.

Damage to the truck which Beardsley was driving was slight, as was that to the motor police car, which was estimated at ten dollars.

It is by now axiomatic that Fortune Gallo gives more than one's money's worth.

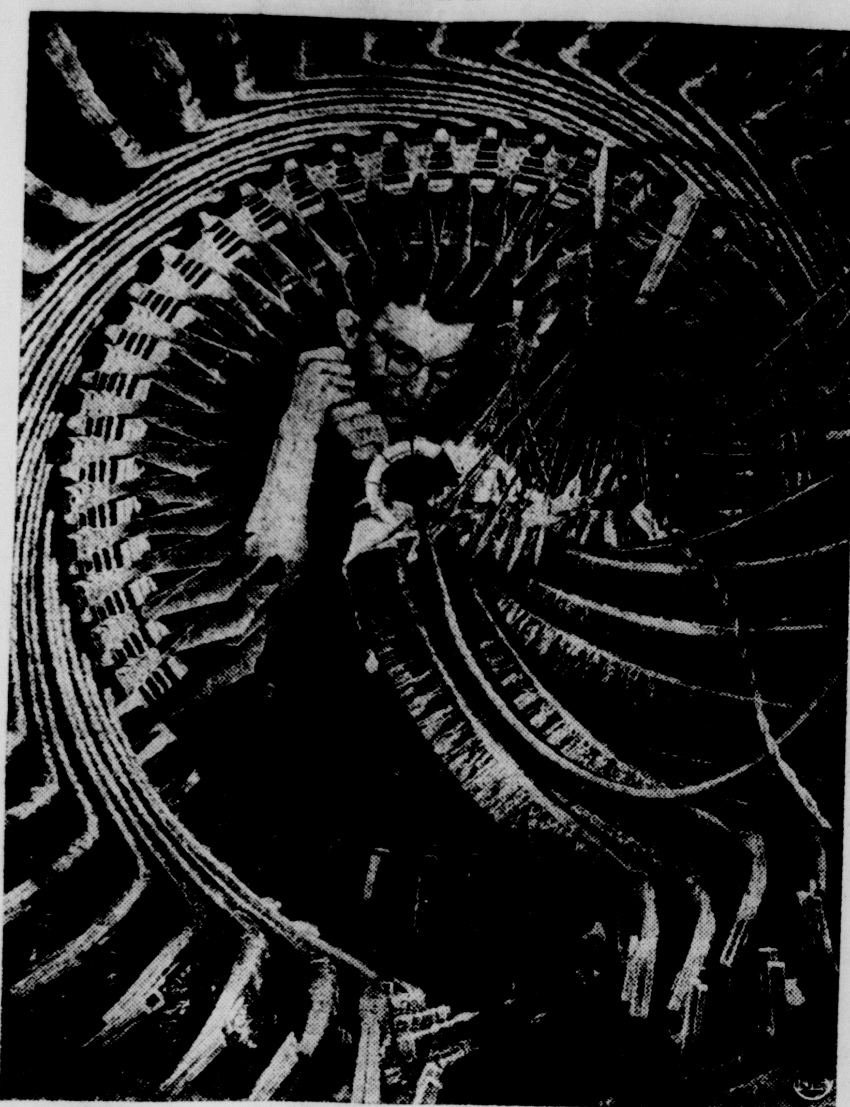

Aroldo Lindi

The San Carlo Opera's portrayal of the Egyptian warrior's betrayal will be marked by the fine singing of Norina Greco in the name part and by the excellent tenor voice of Aroldo Lindi as Rhamadis. Mostyn Thomas and Harold Kravitt as Amonasro and Ramfis, Lyuba Senderowa, the Priestess, Charlotte Bruno, the King of Egypt, complete the principal characters.

Seats are now on sale and may be obtained by mailing self-addressed, stamped envelopes or calling Jamestown 3948.

PLEDGE FOR VICTORY DRIVE PROGRESSING

Air raid wardens and other workers throughout Warren county were busily engaged Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings interviewing their neighbors for Pledge for Victory. While no totals have been reported yet, there are so many individual reports of a ready response in many localities that it is obvious that the campaign is going well. All senior post wardens are asked to get in touch with their post wardens during the first three days of this week, so that if possible they may collect their signed pledges by the evening of Wednesday, April 22nd, and report to the headquarters of the War Savings Committee for Warren County in Room 201, Warren National Bank Building beginning Thursday, April 23rd.

Wintergreen Production To Increase

Harrisburg, Apr. 20.—The demand and increase in price of wintergreen oil during wartime is expected to stimulate production in the distillation of natural oil from black birch and wintergreen leaves in Pennsylvania.

Deputy Secretary Chas. E. Baer, of the Department of Forests and Waters, states that for almost a century this forest industry at various times has been an important source of income for some people living in the mountainous sections of the state. During the last World War the industry was at its height but in recent years synthetic oil has made rapid advances in displacing the natural oil.

There is little difference in the appearance and physical properties of the birch and wintergreen oils and frequently both are sold as oil of wintergreen. Black birch branches or chips are preferred over the small plants because they yield a large amount of oil. The oil is secreted in the birch bark and the wood contains the flavoring. The best time to collect leaves and stems of wintergreen is during the summer months, especially July and August, since quality oil is produced from plants gathered during these months. An average picker collects about one hundred pounds of leaves and stems a day.

Oil of wintergreen has a wide range of uses. It is an important ingredient in the manufacture of medicines, liniments, disinfectants, dyes and confections.

THERE ARE SEVERAL TYPES OF GOITER

The vast majority of goiters can be successfully cured, if steps are taken in time. Generally speaking, there are two kinds of goiter—the "toxic" or "poisonous" and the "non-toxic." From a medical standpoint, there are three types that occur most frequently

- (1) The "colloid" type—symmetrical enlargement of the thyroid gland where both sides of the neck are uniform, usually found in young girls, and usually passes away after adolescence is established.
- (2) The "adenomatous" type—usually an uneven enlargement, more pronounced on one side and usually appears early in adult life. The most common type and about 25% become "toxic" if not properly treated.
- (3) The "exophthalmic" type—characterized by the prominence of the eyes, or a "pop-eyed" appearance. The thyroid may or may not show enlargement but this is the most "toxic" type and hardest with which to deal.

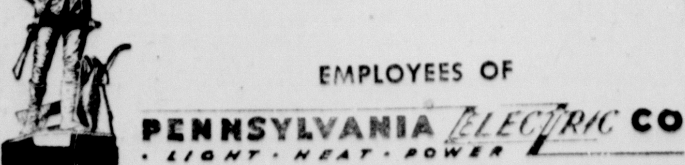

The goiter is symmetrized at first by a faster pulse, a change in the force of heart beat, increased appetite, with marked loss of weight, profuse perspiring and feeling too hot without apparent cause, with later symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness, and weariness, high blood pressure and a damaged heart.

Goiter is difficult to diagnose and treat, and the goiter patient should see his doctor as early as symptoms appear, then give his full co-operation to the treatment.

A CHALLENGE TO HITLER

It is with deep regret that most Americans consider the possibility of facing the French in a shooting war.
The military aspect—the strengthening of Hitler's naval resources—has been stressed. It is important.
But today, as Pierre Laval's resurgency makes armed conflict between Frenchmen and Americans appear imminent, we should like to indulge in a final spurge of sentimentality.

Of all the earth's peoples, until recently one would have said that the French were the last we should have to shoot, bomb and attempt to destroy in defense of fundamental democracy.

Nowhere, we believed, did the love of liberty, equality and fraternity flourish more vigorously and even belligerently than in France.

No nation had contributed so much to the establishment and preservation of democracy in the United States.

Millions of young Americans, now in the prime of life, fought in and for France less than quarter of a century ago, and came home convinced that in all future world alignments we and France would stand side by side.

Those who realized the essential offensiveness of Germany thought of France as democracy's Maginot Line, which would hold until her democratic allies could come to the rescue.

That, of course, is the key to the sad situation we face today. We counted too much upon that Maginot Line, literally and figuratively. When it broke—when the actual fortifications proved incapable of making up for the moral strength and national unity France had lost—the rest of us were caught unprepared.

So now we see our traditional friend and ally beaten, dismembered, ravished, forced at gun's point to become the military ally of her and our bitterest enemy.

When and if Laval completes the sale of his country, even to the extent of turning the French navy over to German crews and permitting the use of French naval bases by the Nazis, we shall have to lay aside this sentimentality and treat all of France as a part of the Reich.

But first, there can be no harm in remembering that for most Frenchmen, this alliance with Hitler is not even a matter of expediency. It rests upon bitter compulsion.

Probably the average Frenchman hates Hitlerism worse today than before Dunkirk.

There is reason to believe that the French public, as a whole, desires an Anglo-American victory so wholeheartedly that our bombing of even their beloved Paris does not arouse resentment, since it is an act of initiative against the Nazis.

The French, as a race, have not changed in their love for democracy. The senescent Pétain, the anglo-phobe Darlan, the fascist Laval may let them down, and place them nominally on the side of Hitler. Their fleet and their bases may be used against us.

But here's a challenge for Der Fuehrer: Does he dare today to raise a French army, equip it with tanks, artillery and planes, and take his chance on which side it would fight?

It is increasingly evident from the trend of the news sent out from Tokyo regarding Saturday's bombings that Japan can't take it!

Seldom has a project in this county been more thoroughly set up and consummated than that of the Salvage for Victory drive staged Saturday.

News of the raid over Japanese cities seems to have been equivalent to a spring tonic for most folks in this country.

News of the raid over Japanese cities seems to have been equivalent to a spring tonic for most folks in this country.

One week from today and "oldsters" will be trekking to registration points to sign up with Uncle Sam!

It's very evident there is to be no armistice among candidates for state-wide offices.

Capping Job

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINETT
WASHINGTON, D. C. — The capital in war time:
Bright-colored eggs rolling down the grassy slope. . . . Children rushing pell-mell after them.
The lawn—and the children—smeared with goopy yellow and white. . . . Easter in Washington.
In peace time it is on the vast south lawn of the White House that the children gather to roll their eggs, or throw them at each other. . . . but this is war time, and no one may enter the White House grounds.

So the fun-fest was held on the west lawn of the Capitol instead.
It was a beautiful sunny day, a far cry from the blizzard of a week before. Far down at the other end of the mall, the cherry trees (which it seems now are Korean instead of Japanese) were bursting into life. The papers said the temperature hit 91 at 4:30 P. M., and a man was taken to a hospital after collapsing at his job, the year's first heat victim.

All told, it was a day that the wilted-looking woman in the blue dress, taking two smeared but happy children home on the street car, might have forgotten the war.
Except that she read a headline over a man's shoulder. It said that American submarines had sunk three Japanese ships.

It was the third time since President Andrew Jackson opened the White House lawn to children that the egg roll had been moved to the Capitol grounds. War was responsible both the other times —once the Civil War, once the World War.

WASHINGTON'S transportation difficulties seem to get no better. Several dozen enormous new buses have appeared on the streets recently, but that doesn't help the traffic situation much.

One source of aggravation has been eliminated, however. Up until the other day it was a common thing to stand on the curb waving for a cab, only to have several empty ones roll on past. The drivers, if they "gave any mind" at all, would only shrug their shoulders. Now the public utilities commission has ordered drivers to display a sign saying "off duty" when they have finished their day's work and aren't going to pick anybody up any more.

CERTAIN WPB public relations officials, working on the story about new women's clothing limitations, thought it would be a great idea to have living models show the war time styles at a big press conference. The two dozen or so men reporters assigned to WPB whooped their approval when word got out to the press room. But the officials talked it over, decided it might be too frivolous. "After all," one explained, "this is a war measure, and war is a serious business."

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—"I often glanced at the government boxes and saw Stalin and Molotov sitting with other high Soviet officials, their expressions rapt, their bodies tense, as if they were afraid they would miss a note of the music."

"Would Stalin smoke his pipe during the concert?"
"Oh, no. . . . Never during the concerts. But when the concerts were over he would take out his pipe and light it."

This was George Sebastian talking, George Sebastian—American.

He was born Hungarian.
But between the years 1932 and 1937 he was general musical director of the Soviet Union Broadcasting System. Before that he had been a guest conductor, invited to conduct concerts throughout all the Russian states.
Shostakovich, the young Russian composer whose work has received so much attention in the United States during the last year and who played such an active part in the defense of Leningrad, was his friend. George Sebastian is sure—even across the chasm of war—that music is playing a deeper and more vital part in Russian life than ever before.
"You can't get tickets to the concerts. . . . The opera is sold out weeks in advance. And the opera and the symphonic concerts are expensive. . . . Good tickets cost money."

I ASKED Mr. Sebastian which composers the Russians liked best. He said "Tchaikovsky, and Glinka and Borodin. . . . Glinka was the most Russian of the Russians. . . . The Russians love him."
Music in Russia is something that is staple and very real, like wheat in the fields and ore in the ground. . . . They love Tchaikovsky, not only his symphonies, but his operas. . . . They love Mouss-orgsky. . . . They love Mozart and Wagner."

I asked him if his movements were hampered by Soviet officials in any way while he was there. He said, "I had complete freedom. I was never annoyed. As a guest conductor I was welcomed everywhere and the officials as well as the people put themselves out to make my stay pleasant.
When I became general musical director of the Soviet Broadcasting System it was the same."

I ASKED him about his determination to become an American, and he said, "I did not need a

AN ENEMY AT HOME

Tuberculosis kills more people than any other of the diseases transmissible from man to man, and is especially dangerous in wartimes.

How common is tuberculosis?

Tuberculosis is so common in the United States that 160 deaths occur from it every day, 11 of these in Pennsylvania. For every death nine or ten cases of the disease could be found.

How do people get tuberculosis?

With one exception they catch it from some other person.
That exception is tuberculosis contracted from tuberculous cows.

What people are most likely to get tuberculosis?

By all odds, those people who are living in closest association with people who have tuberculosis. Young children are often seriously infected by mothers or fathers with "open" tuberculosis, that is to say, tuberculosis with cough and expectoration.

Do people have tuberculosis without knowing it?

Yes, they often do. The beginnings of tuberculosis are frequently very insidious.

How does the doctor find out if you have tuberculosis?

They are many ways. If you are sick, with the well-known symptoms, including chronic cough, increased expectoration, fever, loss of weight and strength, and perhaps spit up a little blood, the doctor will have no difficulty in making the diagnosis.
He will, of course, also have an X-ray examination made.

What is done if you are found to have tuberculosis?

Treatment should be promptly begun. More rest—and the converse, much less activity and strain—and better attention to diet may be sufficient to arrest the disease. Bed rest is often essential.

What are the facilities for taking care of tuberculosis?

The first line of defense is formed by the doctors in general practice. For those who cannot afford private medical care there are excellent dispensaries. The local Tuberculosis Association, organized with funds provided by Christmas Seals, can tell a patient where he can go for advice and care. There are also good sanatoria.

Is tuberculosis always curable?

Unfortunately, it is not. When the disease is discovered too late, or when bad judgment has been used in its early care, the most that can be done is to prolong life. But tuberculosis discovered early is almost always curable.

Trade Group To Register April 28-29

Plans for the registration of trade outlets in Warren county, outside of Warren borough, under the sugar rationing program are being completed by H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, it was announced today.

This registration will be held on April 28 and 29, at which time all distributors and commercial users of sugar will be enrolled, in preparation for the actual rationing of sugar, which is expected to start next month.

The registration will be carried on in the high schools of the county and in a letter sent by Mr. Blair to principals of the schools, instructions for the enrollment have been given.

Trade applicants are separated into two general classes. These are distributors of sugar, which include both wholesalers and retailers, and commercial users, including confectioners, bakers, hotels, restaurants, institutions, etc.

Each high school in the county will register trade outlets in the area from which it draws its students.

High schools outside of Warren which are under Ration Board No. 1 are Kinzua and Russell.

Schools under the supervision of Ration Board No. 2 are Columbus, Lander, Lottsville, Sheffield, Sugar Grove, Tidoute and Youngsville.

Fullers Earth As Substitute In Bomb Raids

Tests have recently been carried out at the Floridin Company, Research Laboratory, in order to determine whether or not fullers earth could be used for the control in incendiary bombs. This work, which was conducted by T. C. Atwell and G. C. Jones under the direction of Chief D. G. Kropf of the Warren Fire Department, should be of interest to auxiliary firemen, air raid wardens, refineries using fullers earth and the public in general.

Results show that "plant burned fullers earth" compares favorably with sand in bomb control. One advantage over said is that a cubic foot of sand weighs about 100 pounds while the same amount of fullers earth weighs from 35 to 40 pounds. Many buildings which will not support the depth of sand required for adequate protection will support a sufficient volume of fullers earth without exceeding safety factors. In Britain, the use of sand bags to control and extinguish the light of incendiary bombs in the street has become standard practice. A bag of fullers earth can be much more easily handled than a bag of sand.

From the standpoint of cost on a volume basis, the fullers earth sells for less.

A movie of the tests was taken by Mr. George Cowden and will be available for distribution.

New Burma Roads for China

Far-seeing China hasn't been idle while the approaches to her original Burma Road were crumbling. Even before Pearl Harbor thousands of coolies were working on a new road to Assam province in India. Now, soon after Rangoon's fall, more links to the west are a-building, the Assam Road is scheduled for completion by year's end and war supplies are headed for China from India. Meanwhile, the old Red Route from Russia is seeing increased service, although most supplies received at its Iran terminal have been going to Russia.

Nazi acquisition of the widely-scattered units of the French fleet would be a matter of grave concern to the United Nations—but it still wouldn't give the Axis naval superiority, according to available figures.

This chart shows how the navies would compare if France turned over to Germany that portion of the fleet stationed in French ports, and if the United States and Great Britain seized units now under Allied surveillance.

ers were in British ports when France quit the war. An aircraft carrier and two cruisers were stranded in Caribbean ports, and are under U. S. and British surveillance.

The figures do not take into consideration destroyers, submarine and smaller units, nor available navy. The latter is chiefly active in the Black Sea and has no large role at present in the battle of the oceans.

The Baseball Standings

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
Patriots' Day in Boston took on added significance today, with the Red Sox and the Braves setting a pace in the major league baseball races that would have made Paul Revere's dash through Middlesex county look like a trot.

The Red Sox took sole possession of first place yesterday by stopping the New York Yankees, 5-2, their second victory over the world champions in two days. The St. Louis Browns, who had been deadlocked with the Red Sox and Yankees, slipped into second place ahead of the New Yorkers as they divided a doubleheader with Detroit.

The Braves and Pirates formed a cozy little twosome at the top of the National loop until both lost yesterday, allowing the Brooklyn Dodgers to muscle in on their party by brushing aside the Philadelphia Phils.

Buck Newsome pitched the Washington Senators to a 5-4 triumph over the Athletics in the second game of a twin bill at Philadelphia after the A's had grabbed the opener, 5-1, behind the six-hit pitching of Phil Marchildon.

Although it had nothing to do with the standings lead, the prize game of the National League was a 14-inning affair between the Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago Cubs at Chicago. Claude Passeau went all the way for the Cubs and gave up seven hits, but the Reds won, 2-1, after committing eight errors and going hitless for the first seven frames.

At Brooklyn, the Dodgers captured the rubber game of their series with the Phils, 6-2, as Dixie Walker drove in four runs and Curt Davis racked up his second pitching victory with five-hit job.

John Beazley's four-hitter gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 decision over the Pirates at St. Louis, although he had to have help from Harry Gumbert in the ninth when the Cubs scored both their runs.

The Cleveland game between the Indians and the Chicago White Sox was postponed.

At St. Louis, Chet Laabs smashed a two-run homer in the opener to give the Browns a 2-1 decision over the Tigers. Rookie Charley Fuchs also tossed a four-hitter at the Browns in the nightcap, but Ned Harris came through with a ninth-inning homer that produced a 1-0 victory for Detroit.

At Boston, the Braves suffered their second straight setback at the hands of the New York Giants, who cashed in on a five-hitter by Cliff Melton, for a 5-2 triumph.

Check In 2nd Place of Mancuso Stakes

Hitting a five-game total of 1036, Myron Check rolled into second place in the Batavia, N. Y., singles sweepstakes Sunday afternoon. The tournament annually attracts the leading bowlers of western New York, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

Other local bowlers who rolled in the event Sunday and their scores are: Pete Juliano, 962; Sam Cosmano, 870; Harold Bjers, 849; Bob Walsh, 830; Frank Fadale, 822.

The tournament ends next Sunday.

New York, April 20.—When Red Barber was broadcasting the Dodgers' first home game of the season, he put in an appeal from the Red Cross for blood donors.

Before the game was over there were 157 telephoned offers from Brooklyn fans. Suppose they figured they might as well shed blood for the Red Cross since they've done it so often for them bums. It isn't official yet, but the chances are that next fall's Army-Navy game will be played for the two service relief societies.

Boston, April 20.—(P)—Students of long-distance running today were asking themselves just what Joe Smith, the National A. A. U. marathon champion, would have done to the Boston A. A. blue-ribbon field if he really had felt fit.

That 27-year-old Medford milkman, so weakened by a recent influenza attack that he did not believe he could go more than 15 miles, yesterday clipped 1 minute, 37 2/5 seconds, off the famed Hopkinton-Boston course record, while out-distancing the closest of his 113 rivals by more than a quarter-mile. His time for the 26 mile-355 yard classic was 2 hours, 26 minutes, 51 1/5 seconds.

"My wife talked me into starting and I had to win for her," Smith explained. "I really did not expect to last more than 15 miles but once I got started, I improved rapidly. I felt great after 20 miles and when I realized that no one had passed me and saw the leaders coming back to me, I just stepped out and ran away from them."

Lou Gregory, the experienced Syracuse schoolmaster, who pulled out at the start and battled with Johnny Kelley of Arlington, the 1935 winner, and Fred McGone of Boston, the pre-race favorite, for the lead for 21 miles, placed second in 2:28:03 3/5, just 15 seconds faster than the record set by Gerard Cote of Montreal in 1940.

Drama-Packed Races Looked For In Relays

Philadelphia, April 20.—(P)—The experts over the roster today for the University of Pennsylvania relays this weekend and forecast some of the most drama-packed photo-finish races and specialty events in the carnival's 48-year history.

The star-studded field will enter the 100-yard dash, but some see it primarily as a "revenge race" for Penn state's Barney Ewell, titlist in the IC-4A 100 and 220 and National AAU 60 and 100 metre events. Ewell will be up to defeat Pittsburgh's Bill Carter, who beat him in the IC-4A 60-yard dash.

Ensign Robert Peoples, U. S. N., who established the American record of 23.4 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the javelin throw while at Southern California, will attempt to take the carnival title from James Elliott, Pittsburgh, 1941 winner.

The only other 1941 winner due back is James Delaney, Notre Dame's burly shot putter, but Al Blozis, the Georgetown giant, is considered a sure winner in the event. Blozis set the carnival mark of 55 feet, 5 1/2 inches in 1940.

To provide fresh eggs for the mob ... When Lew Jenkins ran out of change the other day, he wired Manager Willie Ketchum one word—"short". Willie replied no less economically, "You're an ex-shampion."

With Fred Caliguri, of West Hickory, in the majors with the Philadelphia A's, Gerry Giegerich, of Warren, in the Class C minors, Chuck Clawson, Warren, trying for a berth with the Class D Jamestown Falcons, and Clarence K. Anderson, Ludlow, for a similar berth with the Olean Oilers, this area is fairly well represented at the present time in organized baseball. Caliguri is in solid enough now that, regardless of whether or not he remains in the majors, he should continue in organized baseball for some time to come. Giegerich, too, has little to worry about for some time. And the way Chuck Clawson is going to town in spring training, don't be surprised if he stays with the Falcons this summer. Anderson, in the meantime, has yet to show his wares before the critical eyes of Jake Pitler, Olean pilot. Rip Sewell pitched a really fine ball game for the Pirates as they opened their home season with the Cards and a victory. But the fielding of the Bucs is most impressive of all. Max Butcher has beaten every National League club, holds the upper hand on most of them, except for the Brooklyn Dodgers. Butcher was with Dem Bums for two and one-half seasons, but his score against them is 0 to 7, with the Brooks having topped him that many times.

Ed Hasler was cleaning off the "Y" tennis court over the weekend, but the uncertain weather impeded his progress. Lefty Gomez has pitched some wonderful ball games, but he's never cracked a home run in his entire baseball career. Private Joe Sullivan writes us from Fort Jackson, S. C., to tell us he's finally found some bowling alleys. He also states that the better bowlers among the soldiers, sailors and marines come from the north, with the southern youths just average. The Bradford Bees' training camp in Harrisonburg, Va., this year is really a sensation, so say the reports. A witty bunch of youngsters, they have a good time, but work hard when it's time to work. Andy Phillips is the only fellow in the past dozen years to hang the wreath of roses on the Kentucky Derby winner annually. Reason is, only Andy knows how. It's a tough job, with a nervous horse set to buck, kick or throw its rider unless calmed down by someone who possesses that special talent. The majors went through four days before having a game cancelled this year. Not bad, though not a record.

Remedy Offered For Franklin Coach Is Depleted Deer Herds Off To Annapolis

Emporium, Pa., April 20.—(P)—Voicing concern over depleted deer herds, Dr. B. D. Hetrick of Butler, a speaker at the Cameron Rod and Gun Club banquet, urged revision of the license tag system as a possible remedy.

Hetrick said the "wanton slaying of deer by professional hunters who usually accompany hunting parties" has created unbalanced herds. The breeding is from "a young and inferior stock of bucks," he said. Dr. Hetrick has submitted his revision plan to the state game commission.

Funds for 104 new American airports are included in a congressional appropriation for the U. S. Department of Commerce.

A veteran of six years of basketball coaching at Franklin High, during which time he produced some of the best teams the Nursery school ever realized, Harry N. Sigel, left today for Annapolis, Md., and the Naval Academy to begin courses enabling them to teach at navy pre-flight training schools.

Sigel, graduate of a Pittsburgh high school and Penn State College, is married and the father of one child. No successor has been named.

New York, April 20.—(P)—Alsab and Requested packed their toothbrushes and extra shirts and caught a train for Louisville today, figuring it would be a good idea to get settled at Churchill Downs before the Kentucky Derby rush starts.

And from all indications, there's going to be quite a crowd sitting in that starting gate when Col. Matt Winn's music-makers give out with "My Old Kentucky Home" May 2.

In fact, all signs point to the biggest entry list since War Admiral showed some snappy hoofing to 19 others back in 1937.

Favorites were still a dime a dozen, and much to the delight of the bookmakers, future bettors were going somewhat whacky trying to tab their good things. Alsab, who came from far back to run second in the Chesapeake, remained in the select set, at about 4 to 1, along with William Woodward's Apache, Warren Wright's Sun Again, Col. Ed Bradley's Bless Me and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Devil Diver. Dropped out of this group, by a couple of points anyway, was Ben Whitaker's Requested, who faded in the stretch of the Chesapeake and barely finished third.

Sweep Swinger, the one-time plater T. D. Buhl claimed for $2,500 a year ago, moved well up as a result of his flying fourth Saturday, and was tabbed for the Churchill Downs trip.

TWO HAPPY FAMILIES
Descendants of two families which settled there only a generation ago are the 365 inhabitants of the Bahama Island of Abaco.

GREAT INCREASE
In 1940, the United States produced 1,350,000 barrels of crude oil, as compared with production of 335,000,000 barrels in 1917.

Due to the tire shortage most of the jalopies and rattletaps will be off the highways within a year.

Two city championships were decided on the local bowling alleys yesterday as the curtain began coming down on another colorful season for community keglers.

There still remain a couple of weeks of competition in various leagues before the favorite winter-time sport gives way to summer, and the outdoors, but at the Arcade yesterday afternoon Notre Dame defeated Holy Cross to annex the K. of C. League kofanion, while on the Moose slides Adams Market won the Moose League crown, winning the four games of five in what was scheduled to be a seven game series.

Also at the Arcade, the Warren American Legion completely outclassed Mayville A. L. by a total count of 2625 to 2275.

Best individual efforts at the Arcade were a pair of 213 honor roll games by Giunta, Sam Gerardi's 235 and Anderson's 225, the latter game in the Legion set-to, the others in the Casey rolloff.

At the Moose, Clark's 210 was the only honor roll rating, though Johnny Waples just missed with 209.

The Moose clubbers enjoyed a banquet following the rollofs, and concluded the evening with dancing and a floor show. A trophy, upon which the names of the members of the winning team will be engraved, was presented at the banquet.

About 250 attended the celebration, including a host of guests from Bradford, St. Marys, Kane and Jamestown.

Team scores in Casey rolloff: Notre Dame ... 854 899 985 2738 Holy Cross ... 835 819 722 2879

Four former world champions in Billiard Tourney
Philadelphia, April 20.—(P)—Four former world champions began a nine-day pocket billiard tournament today, seeking what they called the national championship.

The last officially recognized national champion was George Kelly, who won the title in 1934.

Willie Mosconi of New York and Jimmy Caras of Philadelphia were listed for the first match of the tourney this afternoon. Ralph Greenleaf, Chicago, will play Andy Ponzi, New York, tonight.

Ad Koch, who officiated during the world championship tournament won by Edwin Rudolph of Cleveland here last fall, was named to referee.

Chapter Ten
New Neighbors
"WELL, fancy seeing you here!" Stephanie laughed as Henri strode nearer. "What in the world are you doing down here?"

Henri swept off his hat, smiled as he explained, "Oh, just killing off a little time, as you say. Waiting for some friends who have promised to take me on a little yachting trip up the Bay."

Stephanie glanced over his shoulder to the smelly little fishing boat. "Not in that?"

"Oh, no," Henri laughed too. "I was just curious to see what a fishing boat looks like. I was about to ask that worthy seaman if I might have a look around his craft."

"Well, you've more curiosity than sense of smell, I see," and then she suddenly became aware that her father stood in stony silence. "Daddy, you remember Henri de la Pagerie, don't you?"

Guy Merrill bowed stiffly. "I remember Mr. Pagerie very well."

But no greeting. He didn't even offer to shake hands. Embarrassed, Stephanie flushed, murmured, "Nice to have seen you, Henri. We must run along. Daddy's had an accident to his arm."

"So I noticed. I am very sorry, sir. Nothing serious I hope." Still her father only shook his head coldly.

"No—it was just a burn. You see there was an explosion at—"

"Come along Stephanie," her father interrupted curtly. "Good afternoon, sir."

And then before she could say more, he hurried her along the dock and away from Henri. "Goodbye," she called trying to cover her confusion with a little laugh. "See you later."

Henri smiled, nodded. "I hope you won't, Guy Merrill said gruffly.

"Hope I won't what?"

"See that boulder again. I don't like him."

"So I noticed," she said curtly. "I don't know why you choose to be rude to him, Daddy."

He climbed into the car after her, slammed the door viciously. "I don't know either. Don't like his looks. Too smooth. Besides, I'm sure I've seen him somewhere before and the associated impression isn't good."

"You couldn't have met him, Daddy. You're mistaken and probably prejudiced, because he has that foreign air."

The "Accident"

"YOU'RE damned right I'm prejudiced," Guy braced himself cautiously as Stephanie turned the car off the Embarradero and up a steep hill. "If you like him, that's your business. But you needn't expect me to be pals with a bird like that."

Stephanie laughed. "Daddy, you're being an old woman. Just because Henri's different from the boys I've known and—"

"Different is putting it mildly." Then he eyed her quizzically. "How come you're putting up such a fight for this foreigner?"

Stephanie hesitated. Why was she? "Well—he's a good friend of Vicky's. Aunt Allison likes him."

"She would! Al always did fall for that kind of stuff," her brother muttered.

"And—he's been very nice to me."

"All right, but nice or not, I want you to be careful what information you hand him. He may be harmless as a gaffy, but he's not to know what goes on up at Titan. Understand."

"Yes, Daddy. I'm sorry. I just forgot for the moment that—"

"Well, after this you remember it every moment," her father said sternly. "The 'accident' up here today was only an accident insofar as I happened to stumble onto it in time."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that someone doesn't know the exact layout of the plant by accident. I mean that someone doesn't plant oil-soaked rags at vital centers by accident! If I

Your Esso Dealer will help you get that extra mileage

If the tires you are now driving would last about 12 months
Then follow these simple rules to add an extra 24 months of tire life, so that the rubber may serve both you and your country.

1 DRIVE UNDER 40 MILES PER HOUR
By setting 40 miles per hour as your maximum and not more than 30 miles per hour as your usual speed, you can get up to 12 months' extra wear. Remember—tires wear out TWICE as fast at 50 as they do at 30.

2 LET US CHECK INFLATION EVERY WEEK
A tire that is 30% below proper pressure will last only three-fourths as long as it should. Your Esso Dealer's air pumps have been checked for accuracy. Proper inflation can increase tire life by as much as ...

3 AVOID COWBOY STARTS AND STOPS
These waste rubber and cut tire life. By taking it easy, you can prolong tire use up to ...

4 Let an ESSO DEALER CROSS-SWITCH TIRES, using spare
At least every six months, have tires scientifically cross-switched by your Esso Dealer. Use all five of your tires! This, with regular attention to wheel alignment, wheel and tire balance, quick repair of small cuts and bruises, removal of oil and grease from tires, and avoidance of scuffing, can add extra service up to ...

WISE PLAYER LEAVES RE-ENTRY TO HAND

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

George Raape is one of New York's most energetic young tournament players. His success at the bridge table is due in great measure to his unusual power of concentration. He is careful to analyze a hand from all angles before making what might seem just an average play. Today's hand emphasizes this point.

♠ K 9 5 4	♥ K 10 8 3	♦ 6	♣ A 9 5 4 2

♠ A 3 7 5	♥ N	♦ E	♣ 8 6 4

1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening--♠ 9.

After the opening lead, Raape took a long look at the dummy and finally played the ace of clubs. Then he led the singleton diamond. East stepped in with the ace and led a trump, which was won by South. Then came a diamond ruff, a spade lead win by South and another diamond ruff.

A club lead was won by a fine use of the ten, and Raape cashed his last two trumps to exhaust West. He then led a diamond forcing out the king. West returned the seven of hearts and Raape guessed right by playing low from dummy.

Notice the king of clubs gave South a sure re-entry to cash the long diamond if necessary.

The alternative to Raape's line of play would be to let the South hand win the opening lead and lead the jack of hearts. If a heart trick were thereby established, the contract might be made. But Raape's line certainly looks better, since the diamond suit might become established in three rounds and this line offers more insurance against a bad trump break.

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

The runner-up team in the recent Eastern States team-of-four event was a team of many stars. Mrs. A. M. Sobel of New York is rated as the world's outstanding woman player. Howard Schenkel of Four Aces fame will rate in the first five or ten on any list of outstanding players, as will Ed Hymes, Jr.

♠ J 7 5	♥ K 10 8 6	♦ 5 4	♣ 9 8

But the most interesting feature of this team was Leo A. Leventritt, chairman of the tournament playing with his son, Peter Leventritt. Dad gave his son no chance for criticism of the way he played the hand shown here.

The ace of hearts was put up on the opening lead. Leo, sitting North, gained entry through the club ace and cashed all eight trumps. In order to save the club stopper and the ace of spades, East had to let go all his hearts.

Dummy, discarding after him then let go the ten of clubs, holding the blank club king and two spades. A spade lead by North established the last two tricks in dummy.

national all-out war production program, their investment in the community, the number of their employees in comparison to other years, and an estimate of their present volume of business, we have sub-divided the campaign quota into tentative unit goals for these companies.

"In these company goals, we have used approximately one day's pay as a measuring-rod for employee giving. This suggestion seems a reasonable standard to expect from Warren wage earners in this all important united appeal for the welfare agencies of our community. We are, however, asking firms, executives and other individual contributors to subscribe in amounts commensurate to their income and financial stake in the community."

"These goals, of course, are tentative and are naturally subject to the approval of the employer," Mr. Kopf went on to say, "but in making adjustments we do urge company heads to set their final figures in reasonable amounts which represent their fair share of the total $40,800 campaign goal, particularly in view of local community welfare needs now—in this time of national emergency."

The Women's Division, under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, is rapidly organizing. The fifteen team captains working with their respective team personnel and late reports on Sunday indicated that these should be complete by Tuesday morning.

State Forest Lands Offer Recreation

Harrisburg, Apr. 20—Despite the fact that motorists this year are compelled to use their tire mileage to the best advantage, a large number of Pennsylvanians are expected to use the state forest recreational areas instead of making extended tours. Automobile trips in search of rest and relaxation necessarily will be shorter and will be covered at reduced speed. Milford Bratton, director of the bureau of parks, Department of Forests and Waters, states that in this respect Pennsylvanians are fortunate, for within easy travel distance, motorists and vacationists can enjoy the state forest parks, recreational areas and picnic areas.

State forest parks are those areas which possess some scenic distinction and supply an opportunity for active recreation. State forest picnic areas have been created and are places where local people may go for a day's outing and get away from the crowds that are found in the larger recreational areas. Tables, benches, shelters, fireplaces and pure drinking water are provided for the convenience of the people.

Experience has proven that so long as outdoor recreation is indulged in freely, we will have a sound, healthy, economic and social condition. Nature has provided natural beauty almost beyond comprehension in the mountains and valleys of our state and people are taking more and more to the great outdoors to breathe the pure air, drink from the cool mountain springs, and enjoy the freedom from their daily tasks.

Because of the large number of congressional bills he vetoed, Andrew Johnson, former president of the United States, sometimes was called "Sir Veto."

Commercial Sugar Users To Register

Warren county's sugar rationing system will start taking shape soon when commercial users of sugar will obtain rationing applications from high schools in the county. While these application forms have not been received here, they are expected within a few days and announcement will be made when they arrive.

Retail and wholesale establishments, institutions and industries are the first to come under the rationing orders. They will register for sugar purchasing certificates on April 28 and 29.

Domestic sugar users—practically every man, woman and child in the county—don't have to register for rationing books or cards until May 4, 5, 6 and 7.

School officials and teachers working with the Warren County Commodities Rationing Board, will handle both commercial and domestic registrations.

Retailers and wholesalers need fill out only one application form which is numbered R-305.

Institutional and industrial users must fill out two applications. They are numbered R-310 and R-314.

Commercial sugar users have been advised by officials of the county rationing board to obtain applications as soon as they are made available in order to study them and be prepared to answer the necessary questions on "R" day.

The OPA provided the following rules for commercial users to determine the amount of sugar they must expect under the rationing set-up:

Retailers: They may carry inventories equal to the smaller of the two following computations—(1) one pound for each dollar of the establishment's sales of everything in the week ending April 25, or (2) the amount of sugar delivered to the store last November, divided by four.

Wholesalers: Inventories may equal the amount of sugar received by the wholesaler in 1941 divided by the number of months in 1941 during which the wholesaler made deliveries to his customers.

Industrial and institutional: A percentage—which will be fixed by the OPA from time to time—of the amount of sugar used for the same purposes in the same month of 1941. These users of sugar already have been rationed and for April were allowed 80 percent of last year's April consumption.

HOW BEDS WERE WARMED

A pan filled with hot coals was used to warm the beds of early American colonists. The pan was swished about rapidly between the sheets to prevent scorching.

PARAGRAPHS ON PLEDGE CAMPAIGN

Notice along Pennsylvania avenue, west, many "Minute Man" window emblems. Good work of several air raid wardens in that vicinity.

One air raid warden telephoned for additional supplies, which were delivered Sunday afternoon. He had already filled one pledge book and two-thirds of another and said he had not met a "turn down" yet.

Another warden reported that he and his associate obtained fourteen pledges each on Thursday evening, the first evening of work.

One warden reported obtaining pledges from a small number of people which totaled $180 a month.

Reports from the first, fourth, fifth and eighth wards indicated that the work is going on in every part of town.

Many comments have been made about the eagerness of youngsters to sign up for regular purchase of War Savings Stamps. These reports come from parents as well as wardens and they are verified by the excellent results in the weekly tabulation in the schools.

Ridgway Man Is Killed By Erie Freight

Henry Nelson, 62, of Ridgway, was instantly killed at 9:22 o'clock last evening when he was struck by an Erie Railroad freight train at the Center street crossing in Corry. The man had just returned to Corry, where he was employed as a moulder in the foundry of the Ajax Iron Works, after having spent the week-end with his family in Ridgway.

According to the information obtained, Nelson, apparently had gone out for a walk after having taken his suitcase to his room following his arrival in Corry by train. The watchman, DeForest Douglas, and two girls said they saw him approach the east side of the crossing but thought he had stopped. Instead, he walked directly in front of the locomotive and was struck by the pilot.

The body was hurled about 150 feet and was found on the west side of the tracks near the Railway Express Agency office. It was terribly crushed about the left side.

The train crew did not know that the man had been struck and continued on to Meadville. Deputy Coroner R. Laurence Davison, of Corry, is investigating. The body was taken to Ridgway for services and burial.

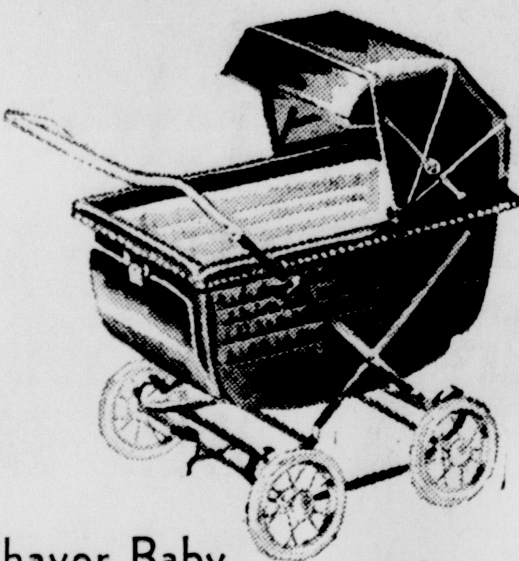

The Aztec ruins, in New Mexico, a national monument, were visited by 10,550 persons in 1940.

Urge Care In Woodlands To Prevent Fire

With all of the CCC camps moved out of the Allegheny National Forest, the Forest Service and the State Department of Forest & Waters have increased the manpower of the volunteer warden crews to handle the suppression of forest fires stated Supervisor R. F. Hemingway. These crews are organized in communities within and adjacent to Allegheny National Forest with a second line of defense made up of industrial crews who will need to be called out if the warden crews cannot handle the situation. These men are now busily engaged in some vital productive enterprise and will only be called upon in an emergency.

From past experiences we know that most of our forest fires start as the result of carelessness, and neither the workmen nor the

The State Hospital farms are being used to good advantage. These young men are planning to compete with one another to determine representatives from the various districts to the annual F. F. A. contests at State College, May 15th.
